Ingredients:

- Two red candles
- One white candle
- Rose or jasmine incense
- A rose quartz stone

Steps of the ritual:

- Choose a calm and peaceful place to perform the ritual. Light the incense to purify the space and create a conducive atmosphere for magic.
- Place the red candles facing each other, a few centimeters apart. The white candle should be placed between the two red candles, symbolizing unity and harmony.
- Hold the rose quartz stone in your hands and close your eyes. Visualize a gentle and warm light emanating from the stone. Feel this energy of love and kindness growing with each breath.
- Recite the following vows aloud, saying them with conviction and love:

"By the power of ancestral love,
I consecrate these candles to represent the sacred union of [name of person 1] and [name of person 2].
May their love be as strong as the fire that burns in these flames, and as pure as the light of this white candle.
May their union be blessed by the benevolent energy of the universe and protected by eternal love."

- Take each red candle and light them using the white candle, saying:

"Thus, I seal this union with the fire of love.
May their passion endure and may their hearts be filled with joy."

- Place the rose quartz stone between the two red candles to symbolize balanced love and connection between the two souls.
- Take a few moments to meditate, visualizing the happiness and harmony surrounding the couple.
- Once you are done, extinguish the candles in reverse order, starting with the white candle.
- Keep the rose quartz stone close to you or offer it to the couple as a symbol of their love.
