

Transparent orb snapped over Santa Fe, New Mexico

On January 8, 2018, a weird and giant orb was snapped over Santa Fe, New Mexico. This UFO was transparent and perfectly round.

Witness report:

“I was taking pictures at dusk in Santa Fe, NM. When I put my pictures on my computer, I observed a round, transparent object amid and behind the clouds. I was facing roughly north/northwest. At first, I suspected lens flare, but the sun was already down. Also, I believe that lens flare would have superimposed itself upon the cloud to the lower left of the object - not the other way around. The object was stationary. I don't know how long it was visible.”
