

Miley Cyrus says she was chased by a UFO

Miley Cyrus is a famous American singer, known as much for her extravagances as for her provocations. In a recent interview, she said she saw a UFO on her own as well as one of its occupants ...

During an interview with Interview magazine, the young singer shared various experiences with fashion designer Rick Owens. The latter had started to tell him about a road trip he had taken with his wife, Michèle Lamy, in Las Vegas. He had explained that during his trip he had been to Area 51.

Naturally, the discussion quickly drifted onto UFOs. Miley Cyrus says:

“I had an experience, actually. I was driving through San Bernardino with my friend, and I got chased down by some sort of UFO. I’m pretty sure about what I saw, but I’d also bought weed wax from a guy in a van in front of a taco shop, so it could have been the weed wax. But the best way to describe it is a flying snowplow. It had this big plow in the front of it and was glowing yellow. I did see it flying, and my friend saw it, too. There were a couple of other cars on the road and they also stopped to look, so I think what I saw was real.”

“I didn’t feel threatened at all, actually, but I did see a being sitting in the front of the flying object. It looked at me and we made eye contact, and I think that’s what really shook me, looking into the eyes of something that I couldn’t quite wrap my head around. But you’re so right to say that it’s a form of narcissism to think that we’re the only things that could be in this vast universe.”
