

An alien face discovered on the moon

On June 3, 2021, ufologist Scott C. Waring discovered a mysterious alien sculpture in a photograph taken by NASA on the moon.

According to him, this sculpture represents a former extraterrestrial inhabitant of the Moon. He explains :

“I was searching through some old NASA moon photos when I found something that really caught my interest. A face in the center of the crater. The object is a carved face that closely resembles humans, but its wearing or growing two huge horns from its head. The horns are bent backwards a little bit as if they grew from the being. Also the horns are hollow, indicated from the shadows and openings...since one of the horns is cracked across its middle. The whole face and horns are a structure created to celebrate, commemorate and hold highly the person or species it was created to represent. The structure is hollow and was made to be a shrine or temple of some sort. For its horns to be broken, it must be thousands of years old. I love the bold look of the huge horns...it represents fearlessness, stubbornness and power.”
