

NDE: He claims to have met Jesus in the hereafter

A few years ago a man named Gary had a terrible car accident. While clinically dead, he had a near-death experience.

While in the Hereafter, he claims to have seen Jesus Christ in person.

He told his story on the NDERF (Near Death Experience Research Foundation) website:

“I felt like I wasn't in my body. I was in blackness but with hundreds of sparkly lights.”

“I was a little scared because I could see my hunched-up body and knew that I'd passed over.”

“To my left and in a field, there were many people. I saw my grandma and her sister who had passed in the previous year.”

“The colours were so vivid! In front of me was a medium-sized stream with a white bridge over it. Jesus was standing on the other side of the bridge.”

“There was a huge, sunlit object shining down on his left side. But it didn't hurt me to look at it.”

“I heard in my head, Jesus asking me, ‘Gary, would you like to stay for eternal peace and happiness or go back?’ I thought, ‘I'd like to go back.’”

The next moment Gary was back in his body. He was being treated by paramedics.
