

Colombia: security guard attacked by poltergeist

The mayor of the city of Armenia, located in the Quindío department in Colombia, shared a mysterious video on the Internet. In these images, we can see a security guard being thrown violently against the wall of the town hall by an invisible force ...

José Manuel Ríos Morales has been the mayor of this city of over 300,000 inhabitants since 2020. On August 2, 2021, CCTV cameras in his town filmed a supernatural phenomenon. While security guards patrolled, as usual, at night, one of them was attacked by a ghost inside the town hall offices.

In these inexplicable images, the agent is seen walking down the middle of the hallway. Suddenly he is thrown to the side before bumping into the wall. Nothing can rationally explain what caused such a fall. For the mayor, there is no doubt that this is a "supernatural force".

Moments later, the guard, then on the ground, tries to crawl but this same invisible force pulls him. Two of his colleagues then come to his aid.

The mayor explains:

"I want to share this video with you today, emphasizing that, as mayor, I have the conviction that faith has insurmountable power."

"I want to give everyone a little peace of mind and let them know that in the company of the bishop and other religious leaders, we will bring God's blessing to every corner of this workplace."

"We ask for respect and a union in prayer, and we assure you that nothing can steal our peace and tranquillity because we are protected by the hand of our Lord."
