

A sculpture of a human being found on Mars

On March 25, 2021, a mysterious hieroglyph was found on the planet Mars. This drawing seems to represent a standing man ... Is this a proof that extraterrestrials of human appearance have been lived on the red planet.

This latest discovery was made by Scott C. Waring, a very active ufologist on the Internet. He expresses himself:

"I was looking over a Mars photo when found a carving on a large boulder along a hillside. The carving is of a person standing in a short dress, with bent arm, and a pointed hat. The feet are pointing to the right, the face and and are also pointed right. This looks just like the ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs that we have all seen. The rover has tire tracks going very close to this location, so either the NASA scientists missed it totally or they didn't want to share their discovery. So intelligent life did exist on Mars long ago. They looked like us in many ways, yet for some unknown reason, they went extinct."
