

An extraterrestrial craft near the space station

On December 28, 2021, a UFO measuring several tens of meters was filmed by the cameras installed around the International Space Station...

The person who discovered this video is named Scott C. Waring. He explains on his blog:

“While searching through the NASA space station cam footage I found one video that stood apart from the rest. A triangle craft was seen near the space station about 50 meters away from it. The craft is huge about 40+ meters across! Its speed is matched with that of the space station. Live cams don't lie. This raw footage is 100% proof that alien craft visit the space station whenever they feel like it. I doubt that they dock with the space station, but they clearly are sending a message to the astronauts on board the ISS that they exist, and they were there first.”
