

Alien technology found on Mars by NASA?

In 2012, something strange was discovered on the planet Mars by one of the rovers sent by NASA... Is it an alien technology or just a stone?

Ufologist Scott C. Waring explains:

“Guys, this is not just a piece of alien tech discarded on Mars. This is alien tech that the Mars rover drove next to and turned the rover around...as you can see from the trademarks near the tech. This is not just a piece of garbage discarded by aliens. This is high technology that could be thousands or even millions of years advanced to our own. This could be a handheld teleportation device that could teleport a person anywhere within 20 light years, activated by merely thinking it (telepathic controls). This could be a energy amplifier that could increase any energy weapon output by 1,000X. Now do you see where I'm going with this? Its not just technology...it could change the direction of humanity forever! The country which gets hold of it, would be forever a world power. The implications of such tech getting into any governments hands would be catastrophic!”
