

Three UFOs filmed by the ISS in January 2022

On January 3, 2022, the International Space Station filmed three UFOs hovering just above planet Earth...

Ufologist Scott C. Waring explains:

“These three UFOs near the space station were caught by Youtuber Marco Pedotti. On his channel he watches the space station, but he only posts videos of the view only...but this time he caught something fantastic...a fleet of UFOs. Now I went over this footage again and again, and I cannot see anything wrong with it. It is 100% authentic. When I took screenshots of some of the UFOs...I noticed they were all blurry and transparent. But one UFO was over land and it looked like a triangle, but when focused is actually a four sided pyramid. In the screenshot above, it actually looks like a doorway has opened on the right side of the UFO. It could reveal the cockpit of the craft. Perhaps the pilot wanted a better look with his own eyes, since it looks like the craft normally has no windows. How many? I lost count...close to 12...man that big one shot past a few times close up...but so fast I almost missed it.

This is crazy cool for sure. Each of the three UFOs throws a huge shadow onto the earth below them. Watch it, pause every once in a while...its mind blowing stuff. These are not satellites, they shoot off turning incredibly fast. I have seen satellites released before from the space station...this is not such a thing. These are 100% alien technology, piloted by living entities.”
