

An UFO Spotted Above a Dust Storm in Arizona

An internet user posted a video on Twitter showing an Unidentified Flying Object (UFO) above a dust storm in the San Simon area, Arizona, United States. The video was captured by a roadside surveillance camera on April 11, 2021.

According to ufologist Scott C. Waring, who shared the video on his website, it would be an extraterrestrial spacecraft that caused the dust storm to conceal itself from motorists on the highway. "Aliens are constantly afraid of being seen, so they take all measures to hide from us. Here's an example of this kind of situation," he writes.

Waring claims that UFOs are often observed near natural disasters, such as the tsunami and Fukushima earthquake in Japan, tornadoes in the central United States, or explosions in the war in Ukraine. "It is clear that UFOs can deliberately cause these disasters to hide from human eyes or to use humans as laboratory animals for their experiments," he adds.
