

A huge UFO observed by a soldier in Maine

On December 1, 2023, at 10:25 a.m. local time, an unexplained event caught the attention of a lone witness, identified as military, in the town of Albion, Maine, United States. The phenomenon was reported as early as 8:28 a.m. Pacific time. The exact nature of this UFO remains unknown...

The event took place in a wooded area in Albion, surrounded by a few houses. The observer reported the presence of an unidentified flying object, whose shape remains unknown but displayed colors of gray, white, blue, and other lights. Its estimated size was 2 to 3 times that of a school bus.

The object was viewed from the ground, with an elevation angle of 45 degrees. The observer was entering a shed when they spotted the object. The estimated closest distance was about 200 meters, initially moving at a speed of 50 mph and then accelerating significantly. The event was marked by several peculiar characteristics, such as lights on the object, an aura or haze around it, a change in color, electrical or magnetic effects, perceived missing time, and unusual animal reactions.

The observer described the object as employing some form of cloaking technology, using surrounding colors to shield its appearance. A metallic taste was reported, accompanied by a tingling sensation in the stomach. No audible sound was detected by the observer, although birds and animals in the vicinity fell silent for about a minute before and after the object passed.

The observation remains unexplained, leading the observer to express a belief in the existence of a presence beyond our current understanding.
