

Silent Triangular Objects Reported Over North Carolina

A recent report published on the website of the National UFO Reporting Center (NUFORC) describes the sighting of two unidentified aerial objects on the evening of December 6, 2025, in Kannapolis, North Carolina.

According to the account, the sole witness observed the phenomenon at approximately 9: 50 p.m. local time. The sighting lasted between one and two minutes. The witness had positioned themselves in the middle of a pasture with minimal light pollution, hoping to observe meteors from the ongoing Geminid meteor shower.

After about twenty minutes of skywatching, the witness reported seeing a triangular-shaped craft with green lights at each of its three corners. The object was moving slowly from southeast to northwest, passing directly overhead while rotating gradually. It remained visible for approximately thirty seconds.

Shortly thereafter, a second triangular object, displaying red lights at its corners, appeared to follow the first at an estimated distance of about one mile. Unlike the first object, this one did not appear to rotate. The witness stated that both objects appeared solid, as they briefly blocked the view of the stars while passing overhead.

Living relatively close to Charlotte Douglas International Airport, the witness noted familiarity with low-flying aircraft in the area. They emphasized that these objects did not resemble conventional airplanes, citing their complete silence and unusually slow speed as distinguishing characteristics.

The witness added that estimating the size or altitude of the objects was difficult, as the clear sky that night provided no reliable frame of reference. At the time of the report, no official explanation had been issued regarding the sighting.
