Aliens gave a strange object to John Lennon

John Lennon is a world famous artist who was notably a member of the Beatles before being brutally murdered in 1980 in New York. During his lifetime, he claimed to have met four aliens at his home in Dakota.

The Liverpool artist told this story to Uri Geller, a man who claims to have the faculty of psychokinesis and telepathy.

Here is what John Lennon told him:

"About six months ago, I was asleep in my bed, with Yoko, at home, in the Dakota Building. And suddenly, I wasn't asleep. Because there was this blazing light round the door. It was shining through the cracks and the keyhole, like someone was out there with searchlights, or the apartment was on fire. That was what I thought — intruders, or fire. I leapt out of bed, and Yoko wasn't awake at all, she was lying there like a stone, and I pulled open the door. There were these four people out there. Well they didn't want my f—in' autograph. They were, like, little. Bug-like. Big bug eyes and little bug mouths and they were scuttling at me like roaches."

I've told this to two other people, right? One was Yoko, and she believes me. She says she doesn't understand it, but she knows I wouldn't lie to her. I told one other person, and she didn't believe me. She laughed it off, and then she said I must have been high. Well, I've been high, I mean right out of it, a lot of times, and I never saw anything on acid that was as weird as those f—in' bugs, man. I was straight that night. I wasn't dreaming and I wasn't tripping. There were these creatures, like people but not like people, in my apartment.

They did something. But I don't know what it was. I tried to throw them out, but, when I took a step towards them, they kind of pushed me back. I mean, they didn't touch me. It was like they just willed me. Pushed me with willpower and telepathy. I don't know. Something happened. Don't ask me what. Either I've forgotten, blocked it out, or they won't let me remember. But after a while they weren't there and I was just lying on the bed, next to Yoko, only I was on the covers. And she woke up and looked at me and asked what was wrong. I couldn't tell her at first. But I had this thing in my hands. They gave it to me. I've been carrying it round ever since, wanting to ask somebody the same question. You have it. Maybe you'll know. I've never seen anything like it. Keep it. It's too weird for me. If it's my ticket to another planet, I don't want to go there."

At this point, Lennon took out a small metallic object resembling an egg from his pocket and gave it to Geller. This object was perfectly smooth. Geller still owns it and doesn't understand what it really is.
