Huge flying saucer spotted near Conway, New Hampshire

On December 15, 2022, an automobilist saw an incredible flying saucer near Conway, Carroll County, New Hampshire. This object had multiple lights in multiple colors.

His story was published on NUFORC website:

"The saucer was large (witnessed at a distance, it appeared to be at least as large as an airplane) and had many lights in multiple colors (mostly red, blue, and yellow). It reminded me of a carnival ride, the colors and lights were so bright. It was low in the sky to the west of me and hovering for roughly 30 seconds to a minute. While driving I passed by some trees and lost sight of it for a few seconds, but came out and was still able to find the craft unmoved from its previous position in the sky. However, when I passed by some more trees, I came out to find the craft had completely disappeared. I could not find it at all, not even distantly, so it would have to have moved very fast to be completely out of the sky in those few seconds I was out of sight of it."
